Something To Think About

BY Barbara Henderson

A lot of Black people are very successful. Many are business men and women, others are great teachers. But a large majority accomplish most of their success in sports, you name it, Basketball, Track, Football, Soccer, Baseball, Tennis, or Boxing and a Black man or woman is in there achieving wealth, position, and honors. It seems to me that Blacks are naturally superior in sports. Those who don't want the material world go to the sports world where many find fame and fortune. Let me relate this to the situation in Tacoma, there are many Blacks in Tacoma who are really "bad" in sports and may end up getting scholarships. This is good to a certain extent. When the sport is out of season what do you do? ? What I'm trying to get across is that sports is right-on! But you can't make your life off of them. Here is an example of a Black man who has something to fall back on-O.J. Simpson, he was the first to ever run 2,000 yds. in one season. But if Football didn't work out for him he is an actor. So, have something else in mind when you get out there. Put that in your pipe and smoke it. Drop me a line. Write to Barbara Henderson, in care of the Tacoma FACTS.

NEW YEARS

As we go into the new year of 1975, I can't help but reflect a little bit on what we've talked about in the past. We've talked about building a strong economy. We've talked about trying to find keys to end discrimination. We've talked about racial injustice. But when it gets right down to it, we've found out that to end racial injustice, and have a strong economy we need jobs for everyone. Now I believe that there is a direct relationship between the economic failures of the past years and the problems which the affirmative action program has encountered. It seems painfully obvious that the affirmative action program cannot achieve its objectives peacefully and democratically if it must function within the context of scarcity and I am particularly dismayed by the notion that opportunities can be expanded for some groups at a time when the job market is shrinking. Now this is just hogwash.

But I would like to offer some solutions about the basic strategies of racial advancement...some resolutions that should be made. Number One: Affirmative Action efforts should be largely directed to instances of racial discrimination in place of ratio or quota formulas. Those institutions that have been found guilty of practicising discrimination should be given stiff fines. In other incidents, such as those exhibited by southern police departments, government should consider asking the courts to institute recially blind lotteries to determine hiring procedures. I also favor the cancellation of government contracts in cases where racial or sexual bias have been proven. Federal manpower and education programs should be expanded. In the manpower area we should like to point to the successes of the recruitment and training program that helped place over 12,000 minority youth with apprenticeship programs in the building traces...a possible model for other programs. Government should continue to question the standards and qualifications for hiring but it should keep in mind that standards are most important to those who are likely to be victims of discrimination. The reforming of standards should not mean their weakening or abandonment.

And finally, there should be a realization that affirmative action by itself can do little to help minorities and poor people unless it operates in a positive economic framework. An affirmative action program cannot find jobs for the unemployed or help the underemployed into better jobs if those jobs do not exist. The most important issue for us to look at as we go into this new year is an economy of growth and expansion. And above all, it must be an economy providing jobs for all.

Family Research Under Way

STRONGFAM, a three-year research project launched recently by Family Counseling Service of Tacoma-Pierce County, is now well under way, reports project director Mary F. Johnson, senior social worker at Family Counseling Service, a United Way agency. More than sixty Pierce County volunteer families are already playing a key role in this research effort to find more effective ways of keeping the family unit strong.

"Response to our appeals for volunteer families has been very encouraging," says Ms. Johnson, "but there is still an opportunity for additional families to participate."

Participants must be two-parent families that have been together for at least the past two years, having a child in the fifth, sixth or seventh grade. They must be residents of Pierce County. Time required of the volunteer families is approximately one hour, once a year for three years. Families meeting these requirements who would like to assist in this project may call Family Counseling Service(627-6105) weekdays between 9:00 AM and 5:00 PM. An appointment time can be arranged at the family's convenience, including evenings and weekends.

Rationale behind the STRONGFAM project is the belief that a strong, well-functioning family can fortify its members for coping adequately with the stresses and strains of life, but that in some families defective interaction patterns preclude this healthy, supportive response.

Ms. Johnson points out that there are many counseling programs to deal with the family when the crisis has become apparent, but there is a great need for programs that help families to resolve their problems before they assume crisis proportions. STRONGFAM is designed to establish reliable means of helping families to spot potential trouble areas. Information gathered from the study of the volunteer families will ultimately be applied by Family Counseling Service in preventive check-ups with Pierce County families.

Dr. Gerald R. Stoffer, assistant professor of research and psychology at Pacific Lutheran University, is consultant for the STRONGFAM project. A grant from the Tacoma Junior League is funding the project in its first year.

Auto Trade Students Join Automotive Service Council

Automotive trades students in Pierce county have scored a "first" in the county, state and nation with formation of a student chapter of the Automotive Service Councils of America.

The student chapter, with 78 charter members to date, is sponsored by the Pierce county ASC chapter which is also supplying the chapter advisor, Bob Davidson, of Lakes Body Shop in Lakewood Center.

ASC is formerly the association of Independent Garage Owners which was organized nationally in 1955 and came to Washington state in 1960. The name change was made in 1973 to expand the association by including all phases of auto services except new car manufacturing and sales. ASC is represented in 38 states by 4,000 members.

Officers of the student chapter include: Ron Kabelac, president; Rudy Chevalier, vice president; Alan Thompson, secretary; Mike Jennings, treasurer, and John German, ASC student representative. Members of the student board of directors are: Kevin Copeland, Ed Weed, Jim Shafer, Louis Luna and Steve Green. All current officers and most members are Automotive Trades students at Clover Park Vocational-Technical Institute.

During the first general meeting of the student chapter held recently at Clover Park V-TI, the Pierce county ASC chapter presented the student group with a check for $50 to assist with formation. Check presentation was by I. G. "Swede" Turnquist, vice president of the Pierce county chapter and an instructor at Clover Park V-TI. The check was accepted by Advisor Davidson.

In addition, member shops of the Pierce county chapter have agreed to donate scrap iron to the student group to provide them with a means to raise operating funds.

Purposes of the student ASC chapter are to provide awareness of and association with industry, leadership training, community service, management training and job skill contests.

Tom Flynn of Spanaway, ASC state executive director, spoke during the first general meeting and told student members that their association with ASC would provide them with the up-dated knowledge and education which they must have in their career fields.

He related that ten years ago there was one mechanic for every 70 automobiles while today there is one mechanic for every 160 vehicles.

Flynn also revealed that one of the legislative thrusts from ASC will be the licensing of shops and automotive mechanics.

Student President Kabelac announced that memberships in the student chapter would be accepted from any automotive trades students, including high school vocational, in Pierce county.

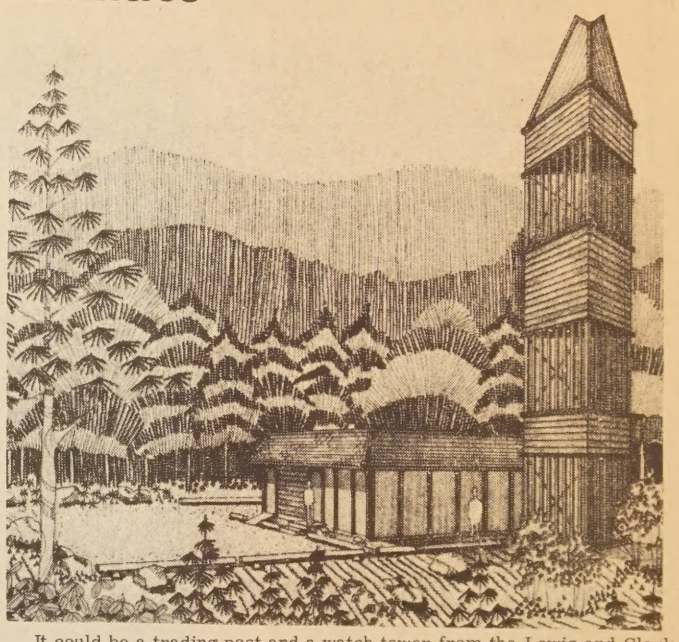
New PNB Crystal Mountain Facilities



It could be a trading post and a watch tower from the Lewis and Clark era.

Actually it's the new look Pacific Northwest Bell's Crystal Mountain switching center will take on next year when the building and a new microwave radio tower are finished in cedar wood.

Located in a wooded area about five miles north of the Crystal Mountain ski slopes, the $350,000 project will establish a new microwave radio system between Crystal Mountain and Enumclaw. It will also bring Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) to Crystal Mountain residents.

"We are making every effort to insure that the new microwave tower and refurbished switching center are environmentally compatible with its setting," McGrath said.

The existing concrete block switching center will be expanded, re-faced in cedar and topped with a shake roof. Additional switching equipment will be installed in the building.

The microwave tower, a 60-foot steel structure with a dish-shaped antenna, will be camouflaged in cedar siding. Only one side of the antenna will be exposed so that ti can receive and transmit toll calls. The tower will be erected next to the building.

Calls over the new microwave system will be beamed to a reflector which will be built on Goat Ridge about 3,000 feet above the Crystal Mountain facility, McGrath said.

"Telephone conversations from the microwave tower will be 'bounced' off the reflector to the Enumclaw microwave station," he explained.

It's Important To Know The Facts!

Brother Ben Raps Back Black

What it is, brothers and sisters. This is Brother Ben rapping to you once again. The spiel for this month is a very important subject. It's called fratricide. And we as a people can well do without it. We need to be about the business of saving ourselves rather than killing off one another.

The World Book Dictionary defines this horrendour term as: "the act of killing one's own brother or sister."

Black people comprise one of the most unique and tightest-knit ethnic entities in this world. Our existence as a dark-hued race in this, a country dominated by lily-white inhabitants, makes us gravitate toward one another.

Our salutations to one another as "brother" or "sister" are not mere token greetings. Many of us actually feel that we are of the same mother--that is, the Motherland of Africa. It's as if we were all spawned from an ever-productive Adam and Eve-like parentage.

We're all brothers and sisters, but we must rid ourselves of this mania called fratricide. The "Cain" complex must be removed. We must stop killing one another.

There are far too many brothers and sisters being removed from among us by other than natural causes. Countless numbers of us are jailed, some justly and some not, and deteriorate in cells seemingly designed for deranged animals.

Others die from the excruciating pain inflicted by the dread disease which discriminates--sickle cell anemia. Then there are those who kick off from the poison of the needle while paying through the nose--victims of King H (heroin).

We don't need to rip each other off. Even in these times of tight money and failing economic situations we need not resort to such drastic methods.

There are far too many among us seeking to eliminate our numbers through devious means. The genocidal tendencies of birth control and abortion being two of the most recent ploys.

Detroit holds the dubious honor of being the murder capital of America. Other American cities appear to be racing the Motor City down to the wire to cop the title for the year.

Needless to say, the majority of those killed have been black. Sad to say, other blacks have been doing the killing. Any motive is sufficient for the death of a brother or sister. Counted among these are senseless reasons such as the untimely ending of a romance, or something as resolvable as a dented car fender. These and many others have served as excuses for brothers and sisters to kill one another.

A flash of anger in an uncontrollable split second can spell death for one of our own. Don't pull that trigger or swing that club or slash with that knife! Do something for us! Do something worth doing!

Get it together, brothers and sisters. Don't rip off your own kind. Do something constructive with that energy and those emotions. Turn in a pusher. Finger the local break-in artist, but don't turn on a fellow brother or sister--a for-real brother or sister. Get it together--for yourselves, for us, for the people.

Kraft Foods Introduces New Cheese Line

PARTY FAVORITES - The new Casino Brand Natural Cheeses are ideal for parties, snacking and cooking. Karen Morris, America's Junior Miss for 1975 prepares for a cheese tasting party using the Casino line. Kraft foods is a co-sponsor of the Junior Miss Pageant.

A new high quality cheese line, Casino Brand Natural Cheese, is now available from Kraft Foods. The line consists of five varieties of natural cheese uniform in flavor and quality because of controlled production and curing. They include Monterey Jack Cheese with Jalapeno Peppers, Brick Cheese, Muenster Cheese Montery Jack Cheese, Low Moisture Part Skim Mozzarella Cheese, and Caraway Cheese. The 8 and 12 ounce chunks of cheese are attractively packaged in clear film. Monterey Jack is also available in a 12 oz. "Nat-U-Roll" with a wax coating.

These varieties of cheeses which originated in many parts of the world, have been gathered together in our line of products to suit our countries universal taste. One of the most popular cheeses in California, Monterey Jack, was named for Monterey County, California. It is a mild, smooth, semi-soft open textured cheese.

Mozzarella is Italian in origin but has been adapted by Americans to make it another of their favorites.

Muenster originated in Germany in the vicinity of Muenster, Germany near the Vosges Mountains and was originally a strong, pungent flavored cheese, nearly limburger-like in flavor and aroma. Muenster has been modified through the years to become a mild flavored cheese to meet American preferences.

Brick cheese is an American development closely akin to Muenster. It was originally called brick cheese because it was then made about the size and shape of bricks and bricks were used almost exclusively for weighting presses during its production.

From the Scandinavian countries we have taken their favorite, Caraway cheese and made it one of our favorites. This spiced cheese, of course, contains caraway seeds.

To assist in the selection, use and care of these and other cheeses, Kraft has prepared "Buylines on Cheese." This borchure is a simple guide to the basic types of cheese available. It explains the differences between natural and process cheese as well as offering tips on storing cheese and cooking with cheese.

To get a copy of "Buylines on Cheese" write: Kraft Foods, P.O. Box 6768, Dept. WR, Chicago, Illinois 60680.

A GOLDEN BULLET?

Who was the masked man who played 15 minutes, hit 4 of 10 from the field for 8 points, and grabbed three rebounds? Who was it underneath that Sonics #40 uniform??

Did Sam Sugarman have some trick up his sleeve--reactivating Elgin Baylor or something? Or had he hoisted off another steal from the ABA that nobody knew about, another Jim McDaniels or John Brisker--

Brisker? Brisker? Who's he? Oh, yeah, he's the dude Russell won't play, even though he's drawing $Xmillion in salary. He's...

Isn't he Sonics Uniform #40?

Indeed he is, and indeed it was Brisker who Bill Russell inserted into the Seattle-Boston massacre last Sunday with 5:16 left in the 3rd quarter. It is the same John Brisker about whom that same Bill Russell said earlier this season, "We've reached an impasse. He probably won't play again as long as I (Russell) am here."

Well, as far as anyone could tell, Brisker wasn't playing marbles in the Coliseum last Sunday. The ball in his hands was a basketball.

So why the change of tactics? If that's what it was?

Russell said after the game, "I was a desperate man... The desperation was just for that situation tonight." Which means, with Boston holding a 73-63 edge at that point en route to a 121-101 thrashing of the Sonics, Russell knew Brisker would shoot and maybe he'll hit seven of eight and get us back in it."

And not only were the Celtics leading points-wise, they were also leading in able-bodied men. Item: starting center Jim Fox was injured early in the Boston game, not dangerously, but seriously enough to keep him from finishing the game. Item: back-up center John Hummer is in the hospital recovering from foot surgery. Item: starting forward Leonard Gray was benched with five fouls by that point.

Enter Brisker.

"It was not a frivolous thing when I put him in the game," Russell said, meaning he wasn't responding to the "We Want Brisker" chants that were emitting from the sellout 14,082 crowd. "Nothing has changed in regards to Brisker."

When Brisker was in, Russell said, there was "No movement of the ball. Defensively? About what I expected. No better nor worse than anybody else."

All of which boils down to -- if Russell has another healthy body to choose from, Brisker will again be keeping the bench warm.

And none of which answers the basic question, Why? What is the "impasse" Russell and Brisker have reached? Following his last previous appearance in a Sonic game, back on November 30, Brisker said all he needed was a chance to get in and show Russell what he could do, that he wanted to be a member of the team. Is the impasse along those lines? Or what?

If it's frustrating for Brisker not playing, it's frustrating for us, too, trying to read the inscrutable minds of those two men. And we really should know--after all, it's the dollars we pay in admission to Sonic games which help pay that $X million salary Brisker draws. And the one Russell draws, too.

Black Haters of Themselves

By Mr. Imara

The truth does hurt, and it's probably the reason for the lack of support by "Negores" for Muslims.

It makes a lot of non-sense to observe so many black people "securely" sitting in the various churches (some garrisoned by police) believing in everything and everyone but themselves.

At not time during all of the many kinds of civic and social meetings have Black people recognized their greatest potential support and assistance in America, the Nation if Islam.

There are several reasons that black folk should have a National black leader. But first, let us shed certain integrationist myths. Where white is right and black is wrong.

Practically all nations of people are going for themselves except our folk. We're still being put into a proverbial "trick bag" by seeking the "melting pot" concept of Americans like instead of seeking cultural pluralism. That is to say, recognizing and respecting the differences which exist amongst peoples. We are whom we are. Cultural pluralism is a way of life which expressly recognizes the differences in people. Cultural pluralism is parity.

Some folk have queried me about whether I am a black Muslim. The Muslims of Amerika believe (as I do) that all Black folk are born Muslim. Excluding the slave names and other Anglo-orientations.

It's appalling to hear the negativism being lambasted and directed toward the Muslims from the white man's Black Preachers. The dumb have the nerve to speak with scorn about the most viable black group in Amerika. It is probably one of the main reasons black folk are so "brainwashed".

I would rather be in search of truth and righteousness than to be relegated to lies, half-truths, and innuendoes. Against those who have shown their worthiness to be beyond reproach. The Nation of Islam is beyond reproach.

The Arab nations, such as Saudi Arabia, owe us reparations as does the United States of America. When the rich oil Nations pay us reparations for conspiring and perpetuating our enslavement in Amerika, who will receive these payments in escrow in our behalf? NAACP, CORE, SNICK, URBAN LEAGUE, MDC, et al? Allah forbid!
